Budget provides a boost

- Confidence gained 2.1% last week, its sixth straight weekly gain. All the subindices gained except 'current finances'.
- 'Current financial conditions' declined 1.5%, while 'future financial conditions' gained 3.7% for its fifth straight week.
- 'Current economic conditions' gained 4.6% and is up around 23% over the six-week confidence gain. Confidence in current economic conditions is still very subdued, however. 'Future economic conditions' gained 3.1%, its fourth straight weekly increase.
- 'Time to buy a household item' gained 0.5% and the four-week moving average of 'Inflation expectations' gained 0.1ppt to 3.5%.

ANZ-Roy Morgan Consumer Confidence and inflation expectations

Last weekend (10-11 Oct)	Weekly change, %	Four-week average	Monthly average since 1990	Inflation expectations (four-week ma)
97.7	2.1%	95.5	112.6	3.5%

This weekly ANZ-Roy Morgan Australian Consumer Confidence Rating is based on 1,511 interviews conducted online and over the telephone on the weekend. Not seasonally adjusted. Further data history on page 6.

ANZ Head of Australian Economics, David Plank, commented:

Consumers have given a thumbs up to the Budget, with sentiment rising 2.1% to its highest level since the last weekend of May. This is the second best post-budget gain in the last six years. There were healthy gains in 'future finances' and 'current' and 'future' economic conditions. Surprisingly, sentiment is weaker in New South Wales, including Sydney, than it is in Melbourne. Less surprisingly, confidence is strongest (and above neutral) in Perth. It is also above neutral in Tasmania and South Australia.

Confidence up 2.1% following the Budget
