ANZ Senior Economist, Catherine Birch, commented:

ANZ-Roy Morgan Australian Consumer Confidence rose back above 80 last week, nearly reversing the previous week's drop. Confidence in both personal finances and economic conditions over the next 12 months drove the rebound, jumping 9.9pts and 5.4pts, respectively. The former hit a 12-week high following last week's 6-month low. Among the housing cohorts, confidence rose for those who own their homes outright and for those paying off their homes, while it fell for the renters. Confidence among renters fell below those with mortgages for the first time in six weeks.
